

A Mother's Prayer

*To you, my daughters, let there be
A constant growing of those qualities
That stand on merits of their own --
As truth, compassion, and sincerity.*

*Look for joy in simple things:
A lilac blossom and the sunset's glow.
Plant courage, faith, and deep integrity.
Sprinkle with love and see God's garden grow.*

From "After This Harvest", Copyright 1964 Elvina Granlie McNamara, Triangle Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas.